

The MPH Advancement Team

The Advancement Office is a team of nine people, each with a particular area of responsibility. Like all independent schools, MPH relies on its Advancement Office to help bring MPH parents, guardians, faculty, and alumni together in support of the School and to promote the School in the Central New York community.

Admission

Working with prospective families from the minute they walk through the door, the Admission Office guides families through the entire application process.

Development

Tina oversees all the School's development efforts with a focus on MPH's capital campaign. Current pledges to the capital campaign total over $4.2 million toward a $6 million goal. Revenue from this campaign has been used to construct the Laurie Mezzalingua '86 Center for Early Learning and increase the School's endowment. Remaining gifts will be put towards the final project of the campaign - the construction of the highly anticipated Bradley McNeil '93 Learning Commons.

Development

Annual giving is a yearly fundraising appeal that raises money to supplement MPH's operating budget. It provides income vital to the School. Kelly oversees these efforts and also recruits Upper School students as phonathon volunteers in soliciting Annual Gifts from alumni.

Alumni Relations

MPH is proud of its almost 4,000 alumni throughout the world and provides programming for them, along with avenues for social outreach. Maureen coordinates these efforts and also educates current students about the School's rich heritage. Maureen is also the Girls' Varsity Tennis Coach.

Maureen Anderson
director

Communications

The Communications Office is responsible for MPH media relations and for the advertising and marketing of the School. Susan also produces the MPH News Digest, the School's online news blog for the MPH community.

director

Community Programs

MPH Community Programs offers special year-round programming for students of all ages. Families from throughout Central New York, as well as our own MPH families, take advantage of exciting Summer Programs, Driver Education, SAT Preparation courses, Adult Education programming, and other services provided through MPH Community Programs.

Special Events

Jenn works closely with the MPH Parents' Association to coordinate the School's special events. Some events (like the fall auction and spring gala) raise money for MPH, while others (like the Back to School Picnic and Grandparents and Special Friends Day) further enhance the wonderful sense of community at MPH.
